FINAL CLAIM CONSTRUCTIONS OF THE COURT

On February 8, 2023, the parties in the above captioned case submitted a First Amended Joint Claim Construction Statement, in which the parties agreed on the following previously disputed claim terms: “network element(s),” ““identifier(s),” “first participant profile,” and “private network.” ECF No. 84 at 1–2. The parties also identified the following two terms as disputed claim terms that still needed construction: “routing message” and “gateway.” Id. at 2–3.¹ The Court provided preliminary claim constructions on February 14, 2023, for U.S. Patent No. 10,218,606. Because the Court preliminarily construed the term “gateway” as “a device that connects networks and can adjust a protocol of traffic moving between the networks,” the parties agreed not to argue this term. The Court held a claim construction hearing on February 15, 2023, in which the Court heard argument on the following claim term: “routing message.” After careful consideration of the parties' briefs, oral argument, and the applicable law, the Court enters its final constructions for each term as shown below.
